

Elana Sabajon, MA, MLHCA

I have worked in the field of education and communication for more than 20 years. Combining my background, unique facilitation style, and vast multi cultural experience, I deliver transformational workshops that produce lasting results.

I am a certified Trainer with the International Center for Nonviolent Communication. I have shared this process both nationally and internationally.

My work includes schools, universities, churches, orders, prisons, nonprofit and profit organizations and parent groups.

I also coach couples, families and individuals in these practices.
